

JEAN-PAUL LESPAGNARD

ARCHIVE SALE AND BREAKING NEWS

Dear friend,

I hope you're well, getting ready for some blooming moments.

I am very excited to invite you to my first archive sale mid-May. An occasion to let you discover my one-of-a-kind collection items, prototypes from my shows, exclusive showroom archives, inspirational objects, patterns, fabric developments.

In one word : TREASURES

As I privilege human connection and each piece has its story, this event will take place mid-May, by appointment, at 34 rue de Stassart in 1050 Brussels. Near Porte de Namur.

Over the years, nomadism took a natural place in my approach to creation, production and presentation.

I had the pleasure to practice it in my recent works, and to showcase this new perspective at Extra-Ordinaire. Early January, I reshaped the E-O concept under my own name for more inter-national flexibility and freedom.

Still, Belgium will always remains the sweetspot of the Jean-Paul Lespagnard brand. ❤️

NEW DESTINATIONS IN THE PIPELINE

For more than a year now, I have been studying and exploring new ways of presenting my textile creations, fashion accessories and decorative objects during various trips in Europe and around the world. Vetue in Brussels, or Maison du Voyage in Goa, and recently a stop in my hometown where I designed, Silversquare Liège.

I want to bring the concept of nomadic sellers back into our contemporary life. By having stopovers in different places to showcase my work to the local creative crowd.

Everything is possible and flexible : a beach hut in Goa, a hotel room in NYC, a friend's house in Hasselt, an apartment in Mexico City, a pop-up store in Knokke or LA, an Airbnb in Seoul or Gothenburg , a convenience store in Tokyo, an empty store in Dubaï, a tent in Marrakech or Puerto Escondido, an office place in Liège, an old sheep house in Ibiza, a vacation home in Majorca, a small fisherman's house in Hydra, in an art gallery or at JPL place in Brussels.
